The problem of finding a cheap poultry food that will increase egg production during the winter, when eggs are high, has been solved by those farmers who purchase Green Cut Bone and Meat for their poultry. You will find it valuable as an egg-producer.

CHARLES M. SCHWAB VERY ILL.

Steel Magnate on Train Speeding from the West.

New York, March 8.—A despatch received yesterday afternoon from El Paso, Texas, said that Charles M. Schwab, the steel magnate, had left there on a special train, bound east, and that Mr. Schwab was in such a dangerous condition of health that his death might not be unexpected.

Mr. Schwab has been in California. He left Los Angeles Tuesday and telegraphed his secretary here, Oliver Wren: "I am leaving for home."

Mrs. Schwab yesterday received a telegram from her husband and dated El Paso, in which he said that he had been ill, but was better.

Mr. Schwab left El Paso over the Rock Island railroad. Efforts to get into communication with the train were unavailing during the morning.

The Rock Island officers in this city yesterday afternoon received a message from their southwestern passenger traffic manager, John R. Sebastian, in answer to queries. He said that the latest news he had of Mr. Schwab was that when the train left El Paso Mr. Schwab was exceedingly ill and was not expected to live through the night. The conductor of the train, he said, had been instructed to wire news of Mr. Schwab's condition at the first telegraph station.

A later message from Corona, N. M., said that Mr. Schwab's condition was improved.

FINANCIER SCORES ROCKEFELLER.

Andrew Cook Addresses Students of the University of Chicago.

Chicago, March 8.—John D. Rockefeller was Tuesday scored as a promoter of corporate evil by Andrew Cook, head of the corporation department of N. W. Harris & Co., in an address to students of the University of Chicago. This bold attack on the founder of the university, who has given millions to it, caused much surprise. "Publicity will cure many of the evils of the Rockefeller system," said Mr. Cook. "If John D. Rockefeller would tell the people just how much of the stock of his enterprises is water, the people would have nothing to do with any of those companies." After explaining the process of forming a corporation and the method by which it can be abused, Mr. Cook pointed out some of the abuses of the system and scored the practice of watering stock. He said: "The North Side Street railway lines furnish a striking example. They are bonded for $20,000,000 a mile, and their real value is about $9,000,000. The first thing a city should do towards acquiring ownership of traction lines is to get laws by which it can have access to all books of the company. Then only can it determine the real value of the business."

Are You Wretched in Bad Weather? Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Barre People Well. Many Barre people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it settles on the kidneys, and there is a shivering, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural. Doan's Kidney Pills have saved Barre people much suffering.

W. W. McAuley of 25 Seminary St., Barre, Vt., says: "I took all kinds of medicine said to be good for kidney trouble but without getting any noticeable relief. The pain in my left kidney was severe and I could not stoop to pick up anything from the floor without having sharp shooting pains in the small of my back. I was very restless night and awake mornings feeling tired and sore all over. Damp weather always made me feel worse and I finally became so bad I could not walk a short distance. It was then that I began using Doan's Kidney Pills sold by E. A. Drown, the druggist, and they helped me from the first, relieving the pain in my back and helping me in every way. I used several boxes and can honestly say that I never found a medicine to help me like Doan's Kidney Pills did. I have told many people what they did for me and know of several who have used them on my recommendation with satisfactory results."

For sale by all druggists. Price 25 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Struggle to Labor. The adjustment of the wages of the employees in the naval gun factory for the current year by the board of wages, which held sessions last December, is a matter of comment in labor circles. It is regarded as significant, from the viewpoint of organized labor, that the wage rate of those of the unorganized craftsmen was reduced, while the wages of the organized workmen were fixed at the rate paid last year.—Washington Star.

Warning to Workers. As winter grows apiece mechanics and laborers usually flock toward the Pacific coast, and the labor organizations of that section of the country are sending out notices warning the workers that California is overrun with unemployed men and that hardships will stare in the face those who come to that coast without means.

Proof Positive. Ask it—What proof have we that the good die young? Knott—The yams of the "oldest inhabitant."—Detroit Tribune.

Why Refer to Doctors Because we make medicines for them. They know all about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, so they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak lungs, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over sixty years. All we ask, after Pepsoids have cured or greatly benefited you, that you recommend Pepsoids to your friends. ## PERSONAL LIBERTY.

HOLLOW PRETENSE OFFERED BY EMPLOYERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

Daily Right the Open Shop Gives the Teller to Accept Work Under Conditions the Boss Imposes—Need of Harmony Among Unions.

The despotism of capital and the growth and power of labor's organization are the two greatest opposing elements of modern effort. This is an age of unionism. The masses have progressed from a state of passive submission to a position of active and determined resistance.

Labor is irritated and discontented with unjust and overbearing conditions, and capital, deeming the injustice of its methods, contends for supremacy in the unequal copartnership the two powers must preserve.

Without harmony these mighty principals in the great industrial problem cannot hope for social and economic improvement.

The greatest good to humanity must result from harmony, and incalculable evil lurks in the latent fires of discord. There are vital issues to be settled between capital and labor.

Capital eagerly watches for signs of disunion among the various labor organizations. The strongest ally that monopoly can secure for making sure of victory over labor and for working toward the destruction of unionism is strife among the labor unions.

Family quarrels will hurt the cause. Unionism is a large family and steadily increasing and danger lies in discord between the various organizations. Monopoly is not only a menace to public interests generally, but it is the foe of unionism first, last and always. The principles are practically the same in all labor unions, and the strength of union must oppose one common tyrant. All labor serves one oppressive master, and the same galling chains that bind one line of labor hold every other line of work in the same bondage. To break these shackles unionism requires all her strength, and harmony is necessary.

The absolutism of capital has become intolerable to labor until, on a protective basis, unionism has spread all over the world and comprises a membership from all lines of labor.

Harmony is desirable, and family feuds are to be avoided. Let one labor organization be injured or crippled and unionism as a whole feels the effect of defeat. Capital scores a victory. The assertion is made that money rules the world and nothing can ever wrest the golden scepter from capitalistic power. Unionism is educating the masses in their self interest, and through its teachings the people arise in the might of new found moral purpose to at least control their own affairs.

Union is teaching workmen to concentrate every effort to organize all lines of wage labor, and the movement tends toward improved conditions for the masses. The Employers' association poses as a loyal advocate of liberty. It carries its creed into effect by claiming every right for the employer that is denied to the employee and is seeking every possible advantage in its relations with the laborer.

The only right its personal liberty gives the teller is to humbly accept a job when offered at whatever pay the employer decides to allow, work as many hours a day as the employer requires, be discharged at any time with out a day's notice and work as the employer says and keep his mouth shut about organization. The forces opposing organized labor fight hard for the open shop and illustrate their policy of one sided liberty at every opportunity. Labor demands more leisure and capital opposes all progress toward the eight hour basis.

The old accusation is that more leisure is not essential to the workingman's improvement, because the additional leisure is spent rather to demoralize than to uplift. Capital claims the eight hour system is good only in theory, but would prove a failure in practice, as nine-tenths of the laboring class of men would spend such added leisure around the grogshops.

We may not criticize the class who have more leisure than labor, but can only wonder if the proportion of inefficiency is greater among the poor than among the rich. Perhaps the man drunk on champagne would save his workmen from the folly and degradation of getting drunk on beer. Labor should appreciate capital's motive for preferring long hours. If many industries in this country have established the eight hour rule successfully, why should not all mechanics the world over progress to this aim?

Unionism is for improvement, and the eight hour system will yet become the rule for mechanics in every line.—Margaret Scott Hall in Carpenter.
